Cocoons clip-ons feature a spring bridge that expands to accommodate various widths of eyewear. Ideally, the left lens and frame of your glasses should match up with the left side of the clip-ons illustration. If your glasses extend past the right hand side of the clip-ons illustration, that is ok. The clip-ons should expand to match the overall width of your glasses (please note that each clip-on size states a maximum width it will accommodate). If the overall width of your glasses is narrower than the clip-ons illustration, you'll need to find a smaller size.
